OFWs expected to send more money to families

By [Name]

Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) are expected to send more money to their families in the Philippines, according to a report by the Department of Labor.

The report states that the average remittance sent by OFWs in the first quarter of 2010 was $1.2 billion, an increase from $1.1 billion in the same period last year.

The increase is attributed to the growing number of OFWs and the rising cost of living in the Philippines.

Revert to manual mode, GSIS urged

WASHINGTON (ENR) — The construction industry and private "owners" of nuclear power plants in the United States are urged to revert to manual operation of nuclear reactors after the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) announced that it will require the industry to do so.

The NRC's decision, announced last week, is a result of a series of safety concerns that have been raised by the industry and the public. Clinton leads high-drama cell phone diplomacy in Armenian-Turkish deal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP) — President Barack Obama's first foreign policy triumph came in a quiet, behind-the-scenes move that took place over a series of cell phone calls. The president's personal intervention helped break a 10-year stalemate between Armenia and Turkey, leading to a historic agreement to open the Bosphorus Strait to international shipping.

The deal, announced Wednesday, was the result of a series of calls between Obama and Turkish Prime Minister Recep Tayyip Erdogan. Obama's intervention was seen as a key moment in his efforts to establish a strong foreign policy from the White House. The agreement, which also involves the United States, will allow for the free passage of ships through the Bosphorus Strait, a vital waterway for international trade.

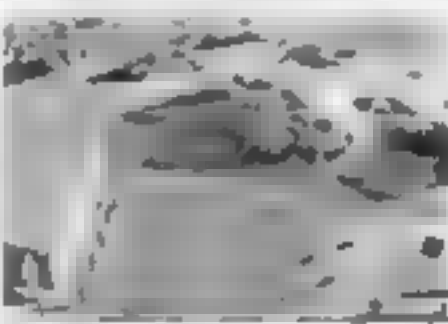

The deal is a significant step toward resolving long-standing tensions between the two countries. It also marks a major diplomatic victory for Obama, who has been working to establish a strong foreign policy from the White House. 22-hour hostage crisis at HQ of Pakistan Army ends; 19 dead

ISLAMABAD — A 22-hour hostage crisis at the headquarters of the Pakistan Army ended Monday with 19 people dead, including 10 soldiers and nine civilians, and 15 others injured, officials said.

The crisis began Sunday night when a group of militants, claiming to be from the Pakistani Taliban, stormed the army headquarters in Rawalpindi, a suburb of Islamabad.

The militants held about 100 people hostage, including soldiers, officers and civilians. They demanded the release of prisoners of war and the withdrawal of foreign troops from Pakistan.

The crisis ended Monday morning after a deal was struck between the army and the militants. The army agreed to release the prisoners of war and to withdraw some troops from the border area.

The dead included 10 soldiers and nine civilians, including two children. The injured are being treated in hospitals.

The crisis was the deadliest in Pakistan's history since the 1979-89 Soviet occupation of Afghanistan. It also marked the first time that the army headquarters had been targeted.

The Pakistani Taliban, a militant group that has been fighting against the government, claimed responsibility for the attack. They said they were fighting for the establishment of an Islamic state in Pakistan.

The crisis has raised concerns about the security of the Pakistani government and the stability of the country. It has also led to a renewed focus on counterterrorism efforts by the government.

Blair for EU president? UK divided

LONDON — Prime Minister Gordon Brown's government is divided over whether to support former British Prime Minister Tony Blair for the post of European Union president, a senior source said Monday.

The source said that while some members of the government support Blair, others are concerned about his record and his relationship with the EU. The source said that the government is currently in a state of "confusion" over the issue.

Blair, who served as Prime Minister of the United Kingdom from 1997 to 2007, has been a vocal supporter of the EU. He has also been a candidate for the post of EU president in the past.

The EU president is the head of the European Commission, the executive branch of the EU. The position is currently held by Jose Manuel Barroso.

The election for the post of EU president is scheduled for June 2012. It will be held by the European Council, which is made up of the heads of state or government of the EU member states.

Another slasher-murder mystery

By Dave Karger

It's not as if the slasher-murder mystery is a new genre. It's been around since the dawn of cinema. But it's still one of the most popular and profitable. And now, with the release of Friday the 13th Part 8, it's back with a vengeance. The movie, which opens in theaters this week, is the eighth in a series of films that have made the franchise one of the most successful in the horror genre. The story follows a group of teenagers who are trapped in a remote cabin in the woods, where they are hunted by a mysterious killer. The movie is a classic slasher, with a focus on gore and suspense. It's a genre that has always been popular, and it's no surprise that it's still going strong.
